BOTIJO ROJO

GARNACHA 2015

BOTIJO ROJO || El Botijo is a limited production red wine, straight from a garage in Valdejalón (North East Spain) where Fernando Mora (MW) and Mario Lopez make wines with the absolute minimum of fuss. The Las Cellas vineyard is owned by Mario's family, and was sold to the local cooperative for 40 years until Mario and Fernando decided to start tinkering in their garage. It's named after the ancient clay drinking water container – still used today – to cool water in Spain's hot, dry climate.

VALDEJALÓN || Vino de la Tierra Valdejalón is located in Aragon, west of the city of Zaragoza. The area has long been associated with quality wine, and it's believed that viticulture here pre-dates Roman settlement. It shares the minerality of Calatayud with the fruitiness of Campo de Borja - both areas sharing borders with Valdejalón. Ninety-seven per cent of the region is planted to Garnacha, many of which are 50-90 year old vines. Currently, there are only two cooperatives and the tiny Garage Wine project.

“The current entry-level red is the 2015 Botijo Rojo Garnacha where they want to avoid excessive ripeness and concentration that has been so common in the region in the last few years. This is a fleshy, slightly rustic Garnacha that represents the place where it comes from and does it in a very drinkable way, with some acid berries that provide freshness, licorice, character and poise.”
