

VIOLET HILL

PINOT NOIR | 2025 | OREGON

The 2025 Violet Hill hails from the far north/south reaches of the Willamette Valley AVA. Half of the fruit is sourced from vineyards in the southern reaches of the Santiam Pass, planted to various clones on primarily volcanic soils (Ancient Jory). This area is the gateway to the Cascade Range, where south-facing, high-elevation vines (around 1000 ft) can struggle to ripen. The other half of the blend comes from vineyards on the northern side of the valley, roughly 100 miles away, in what is generally considered the heart of the AVA and its defining sub-AVAs, yielding opulent, expressive fruit with generous ripeness.

Primary fermentation in small open-top vats is followed by malolactic conversion and six months of aging in a combination of French oak and tank.

Bursting with juicy, ripe red fruit and a bright, snappy acid backbone, this one brings a straight-up cherry bomb vibe. Easy to crush solo or alongside your go-to seasonal bites.
